

“Wings”

by J G Lubbock

This is the 15th book by artist and writer Joe Lubbock.

All but the last of his previous books have contained designs and pictures hand printed at his home in Suffolk but these last two are different, the books are commercially printed from original paintings and text.

The paintings reflect his love for birds, butterflies, moths, and everything that flies.

There will be a limited edition of 100 copies, at a cost of £45.00 plus p& p.

Further details can be found on his website: www.jglubbock.com or from his daughter—
